Oav president of the Republic of Uzbekistan Shavkat Mirziyoyev to the Supreme Assembly As he noted in his address — - now high in the national economy one of the promising sectors that generate income is tourism. Tourism in Uzbekistan it is a state with enormous potential in the field. 7 thousand 300 in our country there are more than of cultural heritage sites and most of them are Unesco it is included in the rolist. At the same time, the unique nature of our country, gohall take advantage of the opportunities of recreation zones to open new tourist routes can. With the active involvement of world brands in this area, we are engaged in visiting tourism, ecological, educational, ethnographic, gastronomic tourism and other of this industry we need to pay special attention to the development of their network. In this regard, the application of state-wide partnerships is extensive in the development of the industry we must take into account the opening of opportunities.

Tourism is an area that most people associate with new experiences, relaxation and pleasure. He firmly entered the life of a modern person who seeks to study unexplored lands, monuments of culture, history, nature, as well as the Customs and traditions of various peoples. Today tourism is a strong industry. It contains a variety of components. One of them is the tourism infrastructure and its components. Tourist infrastructure is a set of hotels, vehicles, catering and leisure organizations, business, education, sports, health and other purposes. But not only these enterprises serve travelers. This category includes organizations engaged in tourist agency and tour operator activities. Excursion services, as well as companies offering services of guides and translators, are one of the elements of this industry. Bevisit to the area under consideration of the activities of the infrastructure of tourist facilities the level includes businesses that produce typical travel products. The result of their activities is goods and vehicles for recreation, souvenirs and excursion services, recreation, issuing visas, etc. The third stage is occupied by enterprises that produce atypical products and services for this area. These are clothing, cosmetics, photographic products, medicines for tourism and Recreation. Services include medical, hairdressing, cultural and educational. Thus, at the first level of the infrastructure of the tourism industry, a group of enterprises of the primary tourism product stands. On the second and third - the second level. Elements of the tourism market infrastructure include:

1. Material base belonging to specialized economic entities. These include travel agencies and operators, travel agencies and manufacturers of products for the same industry.
2. The creator of the legal framework of Tourism
3. A system of commercial and non-commercial entrepreneurial entities operating in order to promote and support tourism in the territory.

This list includes various exhibitions, fairs, exchanges, etc. When we look at the concept of tourism infrastructure, it becomes clear that it represents one of the parts of the infrastructure of the entire region. Part of this huge complex, it is designed to perform a number of specific functions. Among them-supply, integration and regulation. What is the peculiarity of each of them?

1. The auxiliary function of the infrastructure of tourist facilities is to create the necessary conditions for the organization of services to tourists.
2. Integration serves to create and further support links between enterprises of this direction, as well as the formation of tourist complexes in the region.
3. The regulatory function is the most important for tourism infrastructure

It creates new jobs, affects consumer demand, develops commodity-producing industries, and promotes the growth of financial income in the form of taxes. Through these functions, the tourism infrastructure helps: the clock regulates and accelerates the turnover of goods, sharply responds to the slightest fluctuations in the market; it provides interaction with sellers and buyers of goods, as well as financial companies that are owners of monetary capital; using the system of contracts, it makes it possible to form entrepreneurial relations on an organizational and legal basis; the cabinet provides for state regulation, supporting the organized movement of tourism products; financial control over the movement of legal instruments and commodity flows; audit using various institutions of tourism market infrastructure.
